

Telecommunications Authority of Trinidad and Tobago

RADIO-FREQUENCY RADIATION TEST RESULTS

Since its establishment in July 2004, the Telecommunications Authority of Trinidad and Tobago (TATT) has been actively engaged in efforts to determine the strictest possible internationally acceptable limits for radiofrequency radiation from all radio transmitting equipment, including cell sites, in Trinidad and Tobago and ensure providers of telecommunications services abide by these strict limits.

In the telecommunications sector, these limits are referred to as Maximum Permissible Exposure (MPE) limits.

At the start of 2006 TATT outlined the MPE limits to be observed by mobile telephone providers in this country.

The MPE limit for radiofrequency radiation from cell sites to which the general population in Trinidad and Tobago should be exposed is 0.2 to 1.0 milliwatts per centimetre squared (mW/cm<sup>2</sup>).

This limit was recommended after TATT conducted a comparative analysis of the Federal Communications Commission and the International Commission on Non-Ionizing Radiation Protection limits to determine the final choice of standards to be adopted in Trinidad and Tobago.

Based on the analysis, TATT proposed the adoption of the most restrictive standards to ensure the lowest possible radio emission levels are used in Trinidad and Tobago.

To ensure all providers of mobile telephone service, who are operators of licenced radio transmitting equipment, abide by these strict standards,

TATT engages in a continuous programme of measuring and recording radiofrequency radiation emissions from cellular towers throughout the country and publishing the results in the newspapers.

The objective of this programme, which began in May 2006, is to continuously monitor the radiation from all cellular sites and provide the results to the public.

Officers of TATT measure the field strength of radiofrequency radiation emissions from the cell towers using special instruments called Radio Frequency Radiation Meters.

The following tables contain radio frequency field strength measurements for general population exposure recorded over the period October 1st, 2017 to September 30th, 2019.

The measurements recorded below are for a total of 400 cell sites over the period and are well within compliance to the maximum permissible limit set by TATT.
